

Attorney Louann Bronstein Joins HunterMaclean's Corporate Practice

HunterMaclean, a leading business law firm with offices in Savannah and Brunswick, is pleased to announce that Louann Bronstein has recently joined the firm as a partner in the corporate practice group.

Bronstein focuses her practice in the field of corporate law, with extensive experience working with major corporations, middle market, and closely held companies ranging from start-up businesses to internationally recognized companies. Her expertise in the area of mergers and acquisitions is wide-ranging; she has closed many major deals representative of the full spectrum of business transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, strategic alliances, and consolidations.

"Louann's legal experience and skill set will make her an asset to the firm, our clients, and the Savannah community," said HunterMaclean Managing Partner Brad Harmon. "She is a strong addition to our corporate team."

Bronstein earned her Juris Doctor Degree, magna cum laude, from Georgia State University College of Law, where she served as the associate editor of the Law Review. She also holds a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She has received numerous awards for her work, including an AV-Preeminent rating from Martindale-Hubbell in 2016 for legal ability and ethical standards.

GLSP Seeks Landlord / Tenant Attorneys

Georgia Legal Services has obtained a recent grant from the Georgia Bar Foundation to strengthen the Program's landlord/tenant advocacy. The Program is seeking attorney(s) to represent low-income clients in private landlord tenant hearings and/or through the provision of legal counsel via an advice hotline. Positions are open throughout the state, including within the Savannah Regional Office. Follow the link below for more information.

https://rew31.ultipro.com/GEO1003/jobboard/listjobs.aspx?Page=List

Third Annual Savannah Logistics Lunch Highlights Industry Disruptors

The Savannah Logistics Lunch, co-presented by the Georgia Department of Economic Development's Center of Innovation for Logistics and HunterMaclean, was held on Wednesday, July 19 at the Savannah International Trade & Convention Center.

In its third year, the Savannah Logistics Lunch continues to attract a large number of attendees as it brings together nationally recognized industry experts to discuss a specific topic related to logistics. This year's event attracted over 300 attendees and included a keynote panel discussion on Industry Disruptors.

Guests were greeted by HunterMaclean's Managing Partner Brad Harmon followed by a video message from the Honorable Buddy Carter. Georgia Logistics Summit Executive Committee Chair and Champion Logistics Group Southeastern Development Manager Robb Dillon reflected on the 2017 Georgia Logistics Summit, held recently in Atlanta, Georgia. A regional and statewide update followed, given by Georgia Department of Economic Development Chief Operating Officer Bert Brantley.

HunterMaclean logistics attorney Colin McRae moderated the panel, which included Derek Banta, Director of Digital Channel and Mobile Applications for UPS; Stephanie Crowe, Senior Director for Global Learning and Development at the supply chain solutions company Manhattan Associates; Nagi Gebraeel, Georgia Power Associate Professor in the H. Milton Stewart School of Industrial & Systems Engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology; and Bob Robers, Senior Director of Cushman & Wakefield's Industrial Brokerage and Global Supply Chain Solutions Group.

ABOUT THE CENTER OFINNOVATION FOR LOGISTICS

The Center of Innovation for Logistics, a division of the Georgia Department of Economic Development, provides the technical industry expertise and partnerships to help the industry connect, compete, and grow. With locations in Atlanta and Savannah, the Center has activity statewide. For more information, visit www.georgialogistics.com.

Rise of the Automatons Colloquium Call for Papers

You insist that there is something a machine cannot do. If you tell me precisely what it is a machine cannot do, then I can always make a machine which will do just that!

~ John von Neumann

On September 15, 2017, Savannah Law Review will present Rise of the Automatons, a colloquium examining the legal implications of automation in society. Human Beings and Artificial Intelligence (A.I.) will soon engage in a massive legal battle testing our resolve and pushing our economies, our security, our laws, and our dignity to the breaking point. Rise of the Automatons will explore the law's response to a variety of topics, including cyber security threats, displaced workers, automation of legal industry jobs, and legal rights of robots.

In the 1950s, scientist John von Neumann warned of the imminence of technological Singularity—the idea that A.I. will improve itself into a Superintelligence that surpasses the capacity of collective human intelligence.

The year is 2034. Cybersecurity hacking is epidemic—infiltrating law firm data, the Alexa® in your bedroom, nanny-cam teddy bears, and pacemakers. As economists predicted, 47% of jobs are automated, including more than 100,000 legal jobs. Chatbots like ProTechMe collect protective order information and create digital documents for district attorneys. Regulators debate a global minimum income and taxing robots that replace workers. Joshua Browder's DoNotPay bot continues to beat automated traffic tickets in New York City. Risk-assessment algorithms increasingly set sentence lengths for criminals across the United States.

Futurist Ray Kurzweil predicts that the Singularity will occur in 2045. The clock is ticking.

The Automatons are coming.

Keynote Address: Mr. Wendell Wallach, of The Hastings Center and The Yale Interdisciplinary Center for Bioethics, will present the keynote address at Rise of the Automatons. Mr. Wallach has spoken, internationally, on the ethics of emerging technologies. Mr. Wallach's most recent book, A Dangerous Master How to Keep Technology from Slipping Beyond Our Control (BASIC Books, 2015), builds on his life's work as an ethicist focusing on societal, economic, and environmental implications of emerging technologies.

Please submit a 500-word abstract to lawreview@savannahlawschool.org with the subject line "Rise of the Automatons", by July 17, 2017, for consideration. We welcome interdisciplinary submissions from students, professors, and practitioners. If selected, a completed paper will be due one month after Rise of the Automatons for Spring publication.

The event will take place at Savannah Law School, 516 Drayton Street, Savannah, Georgia 31401, and will culminate in a keynote Reception. We hope that you will join us for this exciting event, and we look forward to receiving your submissions. Georgia Continuing Legal Education credit will be available at cost.

Follow us on twitter: @SavLawRev #AutomaLaw

Savannah Law Review presents — "Rise of the Automatons"

SAVE THE DATE

Savannah Law Review

presents

RISE OF THE AUTOMATONS

 $9 \cdot 15 \cdot 17$  savannah, ga

6 CLE Credits Available

formal invitation to follow
@SAVLawRev #AutomaLaw

Announcement

FRANCESCA A. REHAL ATTORNEY AT LAW

New Office Location 4700 US Highway 80 East Suite #5 Whitemarsh Plaza Savannah, GA 31410

New Phone Number (912) 388-6915

Free Lunch & Learn CLE

DATE: August 22, 2017 TIME: 12 pm—1 pm

LOCATION: Coastal State Bar of Georgia Office

18 East Bay Street Savannah, GA 31401

Join Team Leader/Mediator Joe Murphey for a Free Lunch & Learn on mediation tips and strategies through the lens of the infamous 1978 Gator Bowl, in which Coach Woody Hayes ended his career by punching Charlie Bauman, a player of the opposing team. This CLE is approved by the State Bar of Georgia for (1) hour of regular credit, (1) hour of trial credit, and (1) hour of Professionalism credit.

Now Open for Submissions

The Savannah Bar Association is always seeking content for upcoming editions of The Citation. Members are encouraged to submit:

- Your professional and personal announcements
- Law-related advertisements
- Articles or announcements regarding your preferred philanthropies
- Other written submissions

Suggestions for improving The Citation are also always welcome.

Finally, we love to receive photographs and video to share with our readers! Bear in mind that our readers include not only current SBA members, but also many judges and law school students.

Please contact us at SBACitation@gmail.com with submissions or inquiries.